What You Will Deliver

Key tasks and responsibilities:

Promote independence through strength-based approaches which look to maximise independence to support people to remain in their homes and communities, without formal social care support wherever possible.

Under the general supervision of the Service Manager, assess needs and review care to ensure appropriate arrangements are in place to meet the needs of older and disabled adults and carers. This role may include working with older people, people with physical and/or learning disabilities, and people with mental health needs and their carers. The operational setting of this role may be within the Community Localities, Hospital Interface Service, Mental Health Team, including inpatient services and the Safeguarding and Quality Assurance team. Regardless of operational setting will:-

- Identify solutions to meet the needs of adults and carers with care and support needs under the Care Act 2014.
- Ensure services and support are in place to meet the outcomes and needs of the service user and/or carers.
- Have effective working relationships with council staff, and with external staff and providers.
- Establish and monitor financial payments and arrangements to providers for commissioned services.
- Review and modify support plans as agreed with service users, carers and providers.

Main Responsibilities & Duties

1. Inform, advise and support service users and carers about accessing community services, including health, welfare benefits, Information and Advice Centre, housing, leisure, learning and employment, voluntary and user-led organisations.
2. Responsible for the delivery for agreed assessment and review processes. Ensure that the Council meets its statutory responsibilities under the Care Act 2014.
3. Work with a strength-based approach to promote independence by gathering, evaluating and analysing information, and using that information to identify sustainable solutions to deliver good outcomes for people.
4. Monitor and manage appropriately any risks to or from service users or their carers and escalate such risks to the supervisor as required for discussion and onwards planning which may include sharing case accountability with external or multi agency partners.
5. Consider whether there is a concern about an individual's capacity to make a specific decision, including restrictions placed on an individual which may amount to an unlawful deprivation of their liberty (they are subject to continuous supervision and control and are not free to leave) and to respond to that concern.
6. Be responsible for an agreed caseload, working with a degree of autonomy, commensurate with experience and training to organise and prioritise their work. Provide a personalised service to service users and carers independently and/or in support of registered professional staff.

7. Communicate with people who may have communication difficulties and who may have highly personalised communication methods. Able to adapt their communication style and approach, using appropriate communication skills/methods/devices and use these to ensure people experiencing communication difficulties are engaged in their support planning.
8. Consider on a case by case the need for the provision of access to independent advocacy. Assess those who would have 'substantial difficulty' in being involved in care and support processes and have no appropriate individual. Ensure that the duties imposed under the Care Act 2014 in this respect and where necessary, arrange for the provision of advocacy services.
9. Cocreate with service users and carers personalised outcome focused support plans and arrange services and self-managed schemes, eg direct payments, that promote user and carer choice and control, whilst being aware of available resources and costs of the service to the service user.
10. Identify where a contribution may be required from a Social Worker, Occupational Therapist or other specialist professional and arrange for that contribution to be used to more fully understand or assess individual need or situation, requesting guidance or additional input as required. Identify high risk situations and alert a manager where an urgent response may be required.
11. Protect service users and carers from harm or abuse as far as possible, consulting with a professionally qualified member of staff or Manager whenever there are concerns in line with the Safeguarding requirements of The Care Act 2014.
12. Take an active role sharing knowledge and skills by supporting new staff and providing mentoring where required. Act as an educator for apprentices coming into the ASCP role and provide support to students who are on placement within their team. Offer shadowing experience for those on work-based placement and for those interested in the work of ASC.
13. Maintain and update appropriate administrative/IT records on individual service users and carers as required by the service guidelines and prepare reports for meetings. Take responsibility for making accurate and timely recording of all information and activity onto the social care records database in accordance with work targets set by the Manager and Supervisor.
14. Work with service users and carers to assess and review needs, identify assets, discuss options and develop support to address needs identified. This may include face to face, telephone, social media or written, other means of communication and involve making adjustments to care plans and reporting unmet needs.
15. Understand, uphold and promote the aims of the council's equality, diversity and inclusion policies; health, safety and wellbeing of self and others; and Organisational values in everything you do. Equality and Diversity practice covers both interaction with staff, service users and communities and includes challenging discrimination and promoting equality of opportunity for all.

Contacts & Relationships

- Identify the need for and initiate multi-disciplinary and other meetings, to discuss individual cases or general service provisions, which will involve meeting staff from a variety of agencies and provider organisations.
- Have good relationships and daily contacts with care professionals, GPs, voluntary bodies and other agencies to clarify client needs, pass information and make recommendations relating to the provision of care. This will involve setting and agreeing goals for intervention, with appropriate timescales being set.
- Be the primary link for the agreed caseload with professionals within integrated care settings, assuring themselves that the social care needs are met as a component of an integrated support plan. This will include at different times, people on discharge pathways, those with long term health conditions, and people currently inpatient in hospitals.
- Attend and actively contribute to decision making forums when preparing for Adulthood such as Transition Planning Meetings and School and College reviews.

Resources

Prepare and present materials for consideration by other professionals from the health and care sector and managers at Peer Forums. Based on assessment and review information, this will include making recommendations for the provision of costed support plans, together with evidence of need. This must include evidence of decision making, robust control over the cost of a support plan, arrangements to review and revise the support plan to ensure services are sustainable within the council budget.

Participate as a peer in Peer Forums to ensure that decision making is of high quality, transparent and equitable. This will include decisions around practice as well as financial decision making.

Be accountable for a budget and spend if there is an immediate need for the provision of community equipment to support safe independence.

Participate in practice and case audits as necessary, preparing cases for audit and as required, being part of the auditing process.

Develop reflective and evidence-based practice and participate in 4–6 weekly supervision, attend regular statutory training and discussions on career progression, eg apprenticeships, further academic study, leadership training.

Key Competencies

Interpersonal relationships

- Demonstrates ability to develop appropriate working relationships with a range of service users, carers, colleagues and professional agencies based on mutual trust, respect for individuals' rights and cultural needs, and the promotion of independence, equality, diversity and the interests of service users and carers.
- Effectively disengages from relationships when appropriate, whilst ensuring that the most vulnerable and those with complex needs receive continuing support

Assessment and Service Provision

- Person-centred approach to assessment and service provision within the social model of care, enabling people to identify their own needs and solutions.
- Works with service users, carers and professional colleagues to assess and review needs and associated level of risk.
- Has due regard for safety of service users, carers and others, and able to undertake risk assessments.
- Offers strategies for development of social skills and for resolving conflicts as necessary.
- Demonstrates ability to prioritise time to meet competing deadlines. Keeps up to date with routine tasks.

Communication

- Able to communicate effectively and sensitively, orally and in writing, using appropriate methods of interaction and respecting confidentiality at all times and demonstrate good listening skills.
- Able to produce correspondence, reports and records that are clear, concise and accurate.

Team Working

- Co-operative and open with colleagues, sharing information or seeking assistance as appropriate.
- Takes ownership of own work activities and demonstrates willingness to learn from others and from experience.
- Willing to assist colleagues to ensure effective service delivery within and outside the team.
- Takes responsibility for maintaining and sharing knowledge, skills and understanding of social care policies and practice.
